

Fully Self Supporting

By John P., Newington, CT

Picture a newcomer stumbling up to a church doorstep staring down at a torn and tattered meeting schedule. He has been carrying this directory around just in case he had a problem with using cocaine, or some other drug or bottle. He's sure this is the address but there are no lights, no people, no recovery. No help, no hope.

Another scenario: A newcomer walking into a meeting, welcomed by a door greeter who takes her up to the table to meet the chairperson. On the table is a stack of books and some literature. Of course, none of it is CA World Service Conference approved. The newcomer, bewildered, stares down at a book on "Forgiving Yourself" and "The Daily Prayer For Women" or "Fishing and Spirituality," a few bookmarks with Irish prayers and a few pamphlets on the latest fad psychological disorder.

Believe it or not both of these scenarios have happened. Why? Plenty of reasons or excuses, but one in particular comes into this recovering addict's mind: Perhaps these groups had not realized the importance of Tradition Seven, which states that "Every CA group ought to be fully self-supporting, declining outside contributions."

In the first scenario, picture the basket at the meeting being passed around a table of a handful of CA members. Maybe a few people thought they'd wait until next week to toss a dollar into the basket. The process repeats itself next week. The group loses the ambition to spend anything on chips or literature, deciding it's just not worth buying a few Storybooks, or a Big Book. So eventually the literature table is empty, and slowly the spirit of fellowship empties out of the once grateful-to-be-sober addict, and he or she begins to stop supporting the meeting. So fewer people show up and eventually the two or three dedicated addicts who have been holding the meeting together finally give in to their beaten spirit of fellowship and close the doors.

The second scenario shows what happens when the 7th Tradition is ignored in favor of what worked for one addict, who figured it'll be sure to help another! While the spirit of what this addict is trying to do is noble, the concept will eventually kill a meeting. When a CA meeting loses its identity as a CA meeting, personalities begin to take control. This leads to conflict, controversy and chaos. Supporting CA means just that. There is more than enough CA World Service Conference approved literature to fill a table at a meeting. A newcomer should be able to choose from a full range of CA pamphlets, and have the opportunity to purchase a Big Book, a Storybook, a Twelve and Twelve or a meeting directory.

As individual members of CA there is plenty that we can do to practice the Seventh Tradition. We can help by keeping that literature table full. When we can afford it, we can help by throwing an extra dollar in the basket (try to remember just how much each of us spent on our addiction when we were using!). We can practice Tradition Seven by voting as a group to pass extra money in a treasury on to the next level of service via a donation. Even showing up at a meeting on a regular basis, or helping to setup or clean up afterwards, all these wonderful things show that you are fully supporting Cocaine Anonymous. Even these non-financial means of supporting the group are a way of working the Seventh Tradition, because it shows that you are willing to do what it takes to keep you sober and keep the fellowship and the doors of Cocaine Anonymous open to that newcomer.

Let's make sure that when that newcomer is stumbling up to the door of a church with a torn and tattered schedule in his pocket and a glimmer of hope in his heart that we will be there to help him and to hug him when he finally says: "My name is John and I'm an addict."

Good Intentions

By Jim N., Culver City, CA

One thing I've learned about the Twelve Traditions of Cocaine Anonymous is that they were developed to prevent situations that, despite the best intentions of recovering alcoholics and addicts, could threaten our Unity and destroy our fellowship. I never dreamed that by helping to support our meeting financially I could be violating the Seventh Tradition, but perhaps my story will help another addict who finds himself in a similar situation.

As I hope you know, the Seventh Tradition states that "Every CA group ought to be fully self-supporting, declining outside contributions." When I was the Treasurer of my regular Monday night meeting there was a long period of time when Seventh Tradition donations just weren't enough to pay the rent (even after many passes of the basket). I kept telling the group, week after week, that we were short, but to no avail. I thought I had no choice but to make up the shortage out of my own pocket every month. Mind you, I couldn't really afford to do this. But I felt that since I had done what I could to collect from the meeting, I had no choice but to make up the difference – I didn't see any other way for the rent to be paid in full. This went on for quite a while, and I began to get resentful at the whole room. I didn't tell the group that I was doing this, as I didn't want to appear to be 'blowing my own horn'. In fact I didn't tell anyone until my commitment was up, when I let the new Treasurer know what to expect.

A few members with more time and experience than I had overheard me, and looked at me like I was crazy. It was then lovingly explained to me that by not allowing the group to be responsible for their own actions, I was actually imposing my own will on the situation. Although my intentions were good, what I was doing was not in the best

A Note from the WSO

Well, it's off to Milwaukee for the 1999 World Service Convention. We at the Office are getting ourselves ready for a fun-filled long weekend with many hundreds (thousands?) of our friends. The hotel is something special according to the locals, and so far the weather is looking good for the outdoor events.

The Office is also working on making sure that everything is ready for the second annual World Service Forum. A change in the usual format for the World Service Convention, this Forum was added for the first time in Denver and (after a hiatus of one year) will reappear at the Milwaukee Convention. The Forum is designed to give CA members an opportunity to meet people from the different areas of World Service, learn a little about the service structure and to ask any questions that might arise. And let's not forget a special acknowledgment to the CAWS '99 Committee for a job well done. Already the next Convention, Arizona 2000, is benefiting from the efforts of this Committee.

The Office has embarked on numerous projects since last September, many of which were suggested by Delegates to the Conference. Events related to service will take place at the Convention and the members of the World Service Office Board will be in attendance. All of the Conference Committees will meet at the Convention to continue the work done throughout the year between Conferences. Members of the Office Board will be reporting at the Convention on the efforts made to comply with the requests from the Delegates.

The principle for this edition of the Newsgram is Hope. More than "hope you have a good time," we here at the Office have Hope in our hearts that the work we do is of benefit to the maximum number of addicts.

The Board adopted a theme for this Newsgram, the Seventh Tradition which states: "Every CA group ought to be fully self-supporting, declining outside contributions." The finances of CAWSO, Inc. are healthy today because of your help. The goals we set or anticipated at the Conference in 1997 are generally being met. Our overriding goal is to be able to meet a greater percentage of our expenses via the contributions made by the Fellowship rather than relying on revenues from sales and the Convention. We are including a number of suggestions to improve the collection of Seventh Tradition contributions at all levels of the CA service structure. This Fellowship is ours. If we want to keep growing both individually and collectively we must work towards improving the health, in all senses of the word, of the Fellowship. While considering all of the Traditions, including the Seventh, we try always to remember the first Tradition:

"Our common welfare should come first; personal recovery depends upon CA unity."

We wish each and every one of our readers a serene and delightful summer and hope (there's that word again) to see you at a meeting or event soon.

In love and service,

The WSO

Happy Birthday To Me – And Thank You, CA!

By Scott S., Southern California

“... happy birthday to you, happy birthday to you... KEEP COMING BACK!”

(APPLAUSE)

“Thank you very much. My name is Scott and I am an addict.”

“HI SCOTT!!”

“I want to give my candle to a newcomer tonight and hope that he will bring it back in a year to take a cake with me... Whew... another year. I have a lot to be grateful for at this time in my sobriety, especially the fact that CA was here for me when I came in.”

Those of us who have been around long enough to celebrate a year (or years) of sobriety know what a momentous occasion these anniversaries are. Here in Southern California we celebrate these dates as “sobriety birthdays,” complete with cakes, candles, singing and applause. I know that in other areas the form of celebration differs, but the occasions being celebrated are equally important.

I truly believe that if it wasn't for CA I wouldn't have stayed around long enough to get the message of recovery. That message came to me from a group of people sitting in a circle at a meeting on a Wednesday night. They read some things, they announced some other things (heck, I don't remember much of that time) and then began talking - or sharing, as they called it.

The group was there because someone brought a meeting format from L.A. with the readings and then started a meeting. There wasn't much else in those days - money and organization were both lacking. What got the Fellowship from those humble beginnings to now took a lot of effort, 12th Step work and, yes, money.

I bring up money because I have been shown an additional way to give thanks to CA each and every year I take a cake. Every year now I send a check to Cocaine Anonymous World Service for $1.00 multiplied by each year of sobriety. I was taught that the celebration for each year's sobriety (after the first one) was for those who followed; to show that it can be done. In that vein (no pun intended) I want to remember that the message is transmitted in more ways than what I personally can share in my 12th Step.

People are finding us through our Book, our literature, our national hotline, our NewsGram and the internet too. None of this comes free, and if I accept that it is the newcomer who is the lifeblood of this Fellowship then it is necessary (or suggested if you like) for me to financially support the Fellowship's efforts to reach that newcomer. I found the suggestion (nope, this isn't an original idea) that I share my celebration with the Fellowship with a “buck per year” an idea that felt right. Next time you're at a CA convention or other gathering with a “sobriety countdown”, take a minute to imagine just how much money could be raised if everyone attending were to make such a birthday donation.

I want to thank all of you for my sobriety today and hope that each of you will find it in your hearts to give back to the Fellowship what was so “freely” given to you.

Thank you for letting me share...

Good Intentions...

interest of the meeting. My actions had not been an example of God's will being expressed through our group conscience.

It was explained to me that it was not my responsibility to make up the difference so that the rent would be met, and that perhaps my ego had gotten the better of me, even though I didn't see it at the time. You see, if I know that it's not within my power, and that it's not my job, to keep anyone sober, it's also not my job to cover the rent for a meeting. I have since figured out that what I should have done was:

- a) continue to let the meeting know what the situation was (do the footwork); and
- b) step back, and let things happen (stay out of the results).

I still attend this meeting every Monday, and I continue to learn about faith, trust and staying out of God's way on a daily basis.

HELLO

By Joy H.

I was asked by the CAWSO Board to introduce myself to the fellowship as a new Board member.

My name is Joy H. and I am the new CAWSO Board Treasurer.

I have been involved in CA service since 1989. I started my service in the San Gabriel/Pomona Valley. I started out in Special Events, and moved my way up to Area Treasurer. In August 1998, I was asked to submit my Resumé to the World Service Office. Just so the fellowship knows, I have a Bachelor's Degree in accounting and work as a Bookkeeper. I will be 13 years sober in March. Service has been the one thing in my sobriety that has been consistent and helped me to stay sober.

I thoroughly enjoyed meeting all of you at the Conference '98 in Culver City, CA, and

I am looking forward for the opportunity of seeing you individually at the CAWS '99 Milwaukee Convention.

How I Found Hope in the Rooms of Cocaine Anonymous

By Susan T.,
San Fernando Valley, CA

When I first walked into the rooms of CA in July of 1984 I had no hope of ever having a life that did not include cocaine. I certainly did not believe in a Higher Power and didn't think that anything could or would change my life.

I had been using drugs for more than twenty years and by this time I had lost almost everything worthwhile in my life. I hadn't yet lost my children (at least physically), but that was just a matter of time, as they say. HOPE was not something I could count on.

What I heard in that first meeting changed my life. These people had once been as hopeless as I was, but said they had found a solution. As I listened to people share what had happened to them and how their lives had changed, I began to feel the HOPE that these people were talking about.

I actually thought that if this could work for them, and if they didn't have to do cocaine in order to live and deal with life, that there certainly was HOPE for me. So I kept coming back to the meetings. I did what others told me to do: It was suggested that I get a sponsor, read the Big Book, work the steps of the program and try to cultivate a belief in a Higher Power, a power greater than myself. I started to do these things and soon my life started to change. I got a part time job, my kids wanted to actually be around me and my family started to talk to me again. As time went on I got more involved in the program, the meetings, and service work. Carrying this same message of HOPE to others became an important part of my Primary Purpose.

I have stayed sober since I walked into my first meeting back in 1984. HOPE is no longer just a word; for me it has become a reality. My life has changed in so many ways. I have my family completely back, and I have a career that I love (working in the field of recovery). I have friends that are always there for me no matter what, and I have a relationship that is built on friendship, trust and love.

I would not have any of these things if I didn't feel the HOPE in that first meeting. That same sense of HOPE has been present in every meeting that I attended since that first day.

There truly is HOPE in Cocaine Anonymous. I know that if I can stay sober you can too.

A New Sense of Hope

By Steve E., Los Angeles, CA

I still remember my first CA meeting. I went because my best friend needed help, even though I was pretty sure no Twelve Step program could help me. Spiritually, I felt dead inside. It had been such a long time since I had felt any sense of hope. On the rare occasions that I allowed my mind to dwell on my situation, I was convinced that I would drink and use until I died a miserable death.

I don't remember much of what was said at that first meeting. I do remember that I was envious of the speaker because he had used so much more cocaine than I ever had. I also remember that for the first time in my life I actually opened my mouth to say "My name is Steve, and I'm an addict." And when I said it, I knew it was the truth.

What I do remember most about that first meeting was that I heard people talking about surrender. You see, for so long I had been putting every ounce of energy left in my body into trying to convince everyone (including myself) that I was just fine, thank you. The truth was that I hadn't been anywhere near fine in a long, long time. But the people at this meeting said that they had been as helpless and hopeless as I was, and that it was okay to admit that I needed help. Even better, these people said that if I asked for help, they could share with me the same solution that had worked for them. When I heard this message, a glimmer of hope was kindled inside of me. Three days later I went to another meeting, where this flicker of hope was fanned again. As I continued to go to meetings and to take direction, this flicker of hope was fanned into a full-blown flame. Thanks to Cocaine Anonymous, I have now been clean and sober for more than seven years. I have truly been transformed from a Hopeless Dope Fiend into a Dopeless Hope Fiend!

UNITY CORNER

The Gift

By Roger H., Des Plaines, IL

I have been sober since January 1989. I was fortunate enough to find recovery through a treatment center. While I was there, I was given the first gift on my road to recovery. I was introduced to the Twelve Steps of Cocaine Anonymous in that facility. The Steps have laid the groundwork for all the other miracles that have occurred in my life since that time.

The next gift I was given was the knowledge that my addiction is a disease, and that so many of the things I had done were done while I was in an altered state. Next came the realization that I was basically a good person. I was not the useless junkie that I perceived myself to be. Instead, I was just another misguided soul trying to find my way through the world.

The next gift I received was permission to not be responsible for all the world's problems. I learned that I was not God. I only had to worry about my own thoughts and actions. What other people did wasn't my concern.

The miracles continued to explode into my life. Today, my wife actually treats me like a worthwhile human being (and I work hard at behaving like one). My relationship with my two sons is the greatest joy in my heart on a daily basis. I have a sense of serenity in my life that I never thought possible.

All of these things are wonderful but none of them compare with the greatest gift of all. The Twelve Steps, the love of the people in the fellowship, my sponsor and sponsees all returned to me the greatest gift of all.

They gave me "ME".

HOPE

By Rhona C., Orange County, CA

I have so much Hope for the future; and with that Hope, I have Faith that everything will be just wonderful as I continue to work the Twelve Steps on a daily basis. Life is good for me today — One Day At A Time.

H&I CORNER

CA in Texas Prisons

By Veronica S., Houston, TX

On August 17, 1997 a few curious members of Cocaine Anonymous met in a small room in Houston, Texas for the purpose of revitalizing the Hospitals and Institutions Committee of CA Texas Area Service. They were not aware of the tremendous need that this small band of inexperienced trusted servants would have to face, but all were willing and a committee was formed. Being approached first by a department of corrections with the exact statement, "Where have you all been? We need you badly," we found ourselves with 23 meetings by our first year anniversary as a committee, 18 of which were prison meetings. Since other Twelve Step programs had been in the prison system years, we were the new kids on the block.

Still, our small group armed with the World Service H&I Guidelines met the challenge and when the prisons extended us invitations to their annual Twelve-Step group anniversaries we arrived in large numbers. Little did we know that on November 14, 1998 our Texas Area Service H&I Committee would be honored with the offer to be the first ever to have our own, stand-alone Cocaine Anonymous Hospitals and Institutions Prison Anniversary! It was held in Dayton, Texas. Forty-five members of our Fellowship were in attendance. We heard the stories of one of our own H&I Chairpersons (Frank B.) and were also given the special treat of another Twelve Step group member's ("Fluffy") story which touched both inmates as well as others in attendance. There is already talk of other units considering CA for their own stand-alone prison anniversaries.

The Texas Area Service H&I Committee would like to take this opportunity to thank the corrections department's Volunteers Program, Texas Area Service, all the Groups in our area and the Cocaine Anonymous World Services Office, who have supported us and whose Hope, Faith and Courage have made our H&I Committee what it is today.

Thanks for allowing us to be of service.
